

USING OUR INITIATIVE

VIN's pilot project is situated in a rural community called Jitpurphedi, 11 kilometres outside of Kathmandu and the projects will be extended to Taluwa, Thulachhap & Bhadaure of Okhaldhunga, north east of Kathmandu.

We place volunteers directly in the community where their activities complement our own efforts. Our overall aim is to empower the local community to make the changes necessary to increase the quality of life for those who live there. VIN uses an integrated approach to community development, focusing on four key project areas.

THE RIGHT TEAM FOR THE JOB

Established in 2005 and run by an experienced and professional team of education specialists, development workers and volunteers, VIN works towards building partnerships with like-minded national and international organisations helping to make our mission for change an achievable reality.
