Nepal Children's Home (NCH)

A home for children in need

Message from Executive Director

It is estimated that there are as many as five thousand orphaned and abandoned children living on the streets of Kathmandu. Many of these children have been sexually abused, and a significant number have turned to solvent abuse. Most are malnourished without any means of proper food, sanitation, medical care and education.

NCH have launched an ambitious project to build and equip a children's home, able to accommodate 50 children who have been orphaned, abandoned and are destitute.

This home will provide a secure and homelike environment. We aim to give our children the opportunity of a decent education, access to healthcare and, in the long term, enable them to become independent, self supporting and future contributing members of our society. To realise this ambition, your help is needed.

Bhupendra Ghimire
Executive Director

Your help is needed now.....

If you do nothing, you can rest assured that at least 50 children will remain in a state of abject poverty and are probably destined to a future subsisting on a mere $2 dollars a day at best. At worst they will live out their formative years on the streets, victims of exploitation and worse.

A donation, will take us one step closer to building, equipping and populating our home and will change the lives of at least 50 youngsters forever. Our residents will be given a chance in life that many of their contemporaries will have never had. A chance, which will lead to a solid education, and a step towards a future with hope. A chance, that will translate into the creation of an effective and contributing member of society.

Please help us realise that aspiration, and help us give hope to some of our underprivileged youngsters, they are our future.....
